Re: U.S. Patent No. US7391791B2 — Response to Assertion of Infringement

Dear Counsel,

We acknowledge receipt of your correspondence asserting infringement of U.S. Patent No. US7391791B2 (the "US7391791B2 Patent"). After preliminary review, we have substantial concerns about the validity, enforceability, and scope of the asserted claims, summarized below. We reserve all rights and defenses.

1. Subject Patent — Summary

A concise summary of US Patent US7391791B2 is as follows:

Title: Method and system for synchronization of content rendering

Assignee: Implicit Networks, Inc.

Inventors: Information not authoritatively available.

Filing Date: December 17, 2001

Issue Date: June 24, 2008

Abstract:

A method and system for synchronizing the rendering of content at multiple rendering devices. The system comprises a master device and multiple slave devices. The master device receives a content stream and sends synchronization messages to the slave devices. The synchronization messages contain timing information that allows the slave devices to adjust their rendering of the content to match the master...

2. Request

In light of the foregoing, we request that your client (i) provide a detailed claim chart identifying each accused product or service and mapping every limitation of each asserted claim, (ii) identify any prior art known to your client, including any references cited during prosecution or reexamination, and (iii) substantiate the basis for any damages or licensing demand. We are prepared to discuss the matter further once we have received and reviewed the foregoing.

Sincerely,
